

it's an essential peace necessary to bring forth a refreshing awakening.

For a human being's sleep.

Sunshine...

I want to bask... in sunlight...

However...

The Demon King Castle where the Princess is held captive, has been in eternal darkness since olden times...

Up... again...

I can't go beyond the Demon King Castle's walls...

As for very long, I wish I could wake up in a bright place like that forest I can see over there, but...

Then, no matter what I tried, waking up felt terrible and I felt heavy all day...

My biological clock, which was originally meant to be reset whenever I basked in the sun is all over the place...

I never realized that basking in sunlight would be this important until after I arrived here...

It's fine though!
It's not like she
can leave
Demon
King
Castle!

And I
think
again,
honestly,
why does
she keep
leaving
her cell
each
time?!

Looks like Princess
has a lot
of luggage
today.

And
there's even a
cliff she
has to
jump!

Catch my drift? Even if she tries
to do so,
there's a
magma
canal close
by...

And
then, an enormous
labyrinth...

How
many!!

Sacred Treasure Forest

Secure her at once!

Who...

The Princess has broken out of Demon King Castle!

I repeat!

Warning! The Princess has broken out of Demon King Castle!

Yeah, you're right! As one would expect, it's impossible for—

It seems she's lost her way at the Sacred Treasure Forest...! I will now project her location!

Was that warning just now true? I could've sworn ordinary human beings wouldn't be able to escape!

Ohh!!

She can actually escape!!!!?

...I heard a
suspicious
noise...

There
wasn't
anything
there...
I heard a
suspicious
noise...

Just as I was about to
leave...
The
light of the moon...

She
really
is out-
side...

She
smiled

being able
to escape!

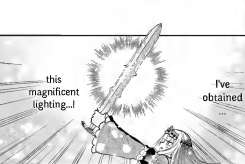

Demon
King-sama,
do you have
any idea-

However,
why did the
princess head
towards the
inside of the forest?
